Good food at all these places.

DiOGi's - New; dog friendly! Just up the hill (on left) from the Little General (Exxon) service station; good Mexican, burgers, wraps and much more; 304.574.DOGS.

Cathedral Cafe - Breakfast, lunch, and also dinner on the weekends. Good food, full coffee bar, no alcohol, good desserts, inexpensive to moderate, great ambiance, popular with both the outdoor crowd and local bizness types. The vegetable panini sandwich is hard to beat, and I'm not a vegetarian. 304.574.0202.

Gumbo's Cajun Restaurant - I've liked everything I've had there. Good beer. 304.574.4704.

Pies and Pints Pizzeria - Gourmet, thin-crust pizzas, salads, sandwiches and good microbrews. Heading up the hill from the US-19 light, pass the 1st light and turn right at the 2nd; it's just a little way down the street (end of the commercial area) on the left. 304.574.2200.

The Vandalian -Fayetteville's newest, and very good by all accounts; The common theme at the Vandalian is high quality ingredients, skillful preparation, and great attention to the details; center of town. 304.574.6912.

Sedona Cantina and Tapas - A little more expensive, but long considered the best evening dine-out. Continue along Court St. through downtown and proceed out of town - what, maybe a mile? It's on the right and you can't miss it. 304.574.3111.

A bit further, but still nearby:
